

The Colleges of the University of Melbourne are committed, individually and collectively, to the fair treatment and safety of students.

In recent years, we have worked individually and collectively to improve our processes, education, and practice, so as to educate our students and staff around the dangers of sexual violence, and to better support its survivors.

We apologise, unreservedly, to anyone who has suffered through our failings, at an institutional level, in addressing the issue of sexual harassment and assault.

In this light, we embrace the recommendations of the Australian Human Rights Commission Change the Course Report on sexual assault and sexual harassment of university students, and Universities Australia's Guidelines for University Responses to Sexual Assault and Sexual Harassment.

Individual College responses to the AHRC report may be obtained through contacting the Head of each College.
